More Depositions to Be Taken in Detroit for the ex-senutor, Yesterday in the Equity Court the motion of Hessrs. Cuppy & Ingersoll to take further testimony for the complainant came up for hearing before Judge Hagner, sliting as chancellor. Mr. C. C. Cole appeared for the respondent. Judge Curpy said that a motion had been made by the other side to object to the resumony being taken; he thought then, even if the testimony was irrelevant, it should be taken before the commissioner and objected to when it comes up before the chan-cellor. In support of his argument, he cited sev-eral Michigan and Indiana precedents. In the original bill filed by his citent it set up the adul-tory of the respondent in the District. She filed an answer denying the act, and also a cross-bill alleging rand treatment to Michigan, the Disalleging cruel treatment in Michigan, the District, and Peru. To the cross-bill an answer was only filed. Fortions of the bill were here read. The testimony was not irrelevant, as it would in a great measure help the chancellor to

FIX THE AMOUNT OF ALIMONY.

Mr. Cole said he should not waste much time in arraing his motion. Judge Hagner said: "I will do you the justice to say you very soldem do; you always speak to the point. My general opinion is that the depositions had better be taken unless they are manifestly irrelevant." Mr. Cole, continuing, said the counsel for the complainant had abandomed their original ground to impeach the credibility of the winces Haight, and now introduced this testimony in hear of his ellent's crossbill. If her confluct was reprehensible he admitted it would tend to lessen her allmony. But the defense to the cross-bill rests only upon residied that any crucity had been committed on the respondent, and only allege that one act of solutions. The plaintiff had not come into court and admitted was committed by her in the Pistrict of Columbia. The plaintiff had not come into court and admitted truelly, and that the defendant's conduct brought it upon her. If the bill alleged that adultery had been committed with Anderson or Haight, and by reason of these acts coming to her husband's knowledge the crucity had been committed, he would have nothing to say. The sliegations were loose, and every allegation in a bill of divorce, and must be stated with great exactness, and the time and place specified. Judge Hagner asked Mr. cole if a commission issued to take testimony out of the jurisdiction of the court and the witnesses went into irrelevant matter would be stop the examination there or strike out the foreign matter when it comes back here? Wr. Cole said he would wait until it came back. Judge Hagner said the same spelied to the present case, and that it seemed to him that the court would be entering on very delicate ground if it attempted to sin the wheat from the tarea, unless, of course, the matter was flagrantly irrelevant. Mr. Cole said he had desired to keep scandalous statements out of the bill, which were really foreign to the case. After some further discussion, on motion of Messrs, Cuppy & Ingersell, the Chanceller made a rule directing that a commission be ordered to issue to Charact yellows, of Jutrolt, Mich., to take the testimony of George and Victor Christiancy, on behalf of the complainant to the original bill. The object of this testimony will be, in a great measure, to rebut Haight's testimony. ENPERIALLY WHERE IT IS ADULTERY, Tricky Conveyancing. Yesterday Judge Hagner, sitting in chancery, signed a decree for the complainant in the case of O'Dwyer vs. Jackson. In September, 1868, Pink O'Dwyer vs. Jackson. In September, 1868, Pink Jackson deeded his property to John O'Dwyer. In 1874 the latter died, and in 1877 Jackson returned from serving a term in the penitentary, when he immediately recoinveyed the property to other parties, totally ignoring the former deed. In signing the decree Judge Hagner administered some very severe criticisms on Jackson's conduct, and inturated that it was a proper case for the Criminal Court to take cognizance of.

"The Hanker's Daughter." "The Hanker's Daughter," one of the best, if not the very best, of Bronson Howard's plays, was presented at the National Theatre last night by the J. W. Collier Combination. The drizzling rain prevented the full attendance that the merits of the piece and the company justified, but yet there was a good audience, who by their frequent apwas a good audience, who by their frequent appleause testified their approbation of the performance. Although the play has been seen here before, its presentation last night was such as to give it a new interest. The suge-setting was exceptionably fine, and several of the scenes—notably the moonlight seen in the fourth set, where the duel took place—evoked warm and hearty appliance for their excellence. The company is well balanced and presents the play most acceptably. Mr. Joseph E. Whiling as John Streteow gave a straightforward presentation of an honorable and upright American, and in the smotional passages was decidedly effective. Mr. W. S. Daball was slightly too sinister as the Court de Carojac, but he showed the possession of a fine baritone voice, and his song in the second act was encored. Mr. George C. Boniface as G. Washington Phipps showed his streat versatility in his careful interpretation of this most difficult character, which he rendered with the same artistic finish that is characteristic of this sterility in his harmonial to the complex attention by the Belgarde, as Lellan, the Panker's Daughter, proved a finished and graceful actives. With a voice by no means musical, she yet compile attention by the manner was and carfestness of the acting. George Thatcher's Minstrels. the periodical floods, &c.;

Whereas the improvement of the Mississhppi River is a question of national importance, and one which should be kept distinct from partisan politics and ance was an agreeable surprise to the regular should be kept designed to the sectional animostiles:

Whereas the plan of its improvement is a question which belongs to the domain of science rather than which belongs to the domain of science rather than politics:

**The composition of the position of the politics of pany, though small in number, is one of the best that has ever visited this city. Every man is an artist in his specialty, and the combination is a powerful one. The opening olio embraces some excellent singing, both comic and sentimental, and the lokes are fresh and very bright. Courtight's specialty, simmons and Hawkins sketch, Dougherty's oration, and the song-and-dance business of the big four all brought enthusiasticencores, George Thucker in his specialties is simply inmense. The closing burlesque, "Hash," brought out all the strong points of the company, and is full of fun from the beginning to the end. This company will remain here during this week, and if they meet with the appreciation their merit deserves will play to crowded houses every night.

Funeral of Francis B. Lord, Sr. The funeral of Francis B. Lord, sr., took place yesterday from his son's residence, corner of Fifth and G streets northwest. The body was enclosed in a handsome Stein casket, plainly but richly trimmed, the inside being lined with white satin and the top covered with Odd-Fellows' emblems. and the top covered with Odd-Fellows' emblems. The Rev. A. W. Pitzer, of the Central Presbyterian Church, performed the funeral services. The interment took place in the deceased's lot in Glenwood Cemetery. The pull-bearers were, in behalf of the citizens, Robert Ball and Benjamin Milburn in behalf of the Odd-Fellows, Brother Pulson, of Washington Lodge, No. 6, and Brother Kinley Hint, of Grand Lodge, from Columbia Encampment, Brother Joseph Daniel; from Grand Encampment, Brother Kidder. The funeral arrangements were admirably carried out under the direction of Anthony Buchly's Son.

LOCAL MENTION.

A Washington Man Struck it Yesterday—
Who Will Flad the $500 To-Day?
Is a question more easily asked than answered, it will probably be known by nine o'clock tonight. It was half-past eight last night before it was found, and then to the surprise of quite a large crowd of people it was found in a can of coffee, and the name of the lucky finder is N. O.
Summerfield, chief clerk Railway Mail Service, of this city. The whole $500 was in gold coin, and the clerk that sold it to Mr. S.
was the most excited chap that has been in our employ for a long time. All of the clerks were more or less excited over the event. Several times during the day "a faise alarm" was started, when $20 or $600 rs found, as it was believed in each instance it was the $500, but it was not. We wish to say that one Christian Blein, steward at the Solders' Home, was reported one day last week as having found $100 in a can. In fact, it was a much smaller amount. The writer or the compositor made the error. At any rate it was a mistake. We wish right here to correct it,
It is not our wish or desire to make any faise representations.

We shall continue to rive out presents of mone.

was a mistake. We wish right here to correct it. It is not our wish or desire to make any false representations.

We shall continue to give out presents of money this entire week. Every can will contain not less than 10 cents, perhaps 15 cents, or 90 cents, or 92 cents, or 70 cents, or 710 cents, o 875, or $50, or smaller amounts, down as low as 10 cents.

Below we give a partial list of those who have found a sum of money, $5 or upward, in came purchased presented, we do not take the names of those who find less than $5. A great many find $1, $2, or $5 in the easts they buy.

**RONEY FOUND YESTSHDAY BY
Miller & Jones, importers, 1322 to 1837 Pennsylvanta atvants, $5, gold, in coffee; William H. Grook, executive clerk to the President, $5, gold, in coffee; Mrs. $1. Smith, Treasury Department, $200, gold, in tea; Hobbitt House Cube, lebbitt House (supposed to be Ebbitt, $5, gold, and diamond ring ity mistake), both in coffee; William U. xhibit standard workmanship, elegance, and raceful splendor in design and finish. This vehicle is a noble example of solidity and convenience. It is roomy and luxurious, and when closed offers, in inclement weather, all the protection of a drawing-room, while its crystal plate sides give an unobstructed view, To change it to an open carriage is but the work of an instant, and as such its superb beauty is best displayed. J. W. Gosling's prices are the lowest consistent with the high est perfection in construction.
